

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Thinking it through is always a good idea!

Learning Outcome

Describe necessity, duty, advice, or strong disapproval in written and spoken situations according to work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can request or report facts about events or actions.
- I can express necessity, duty, and advice.
- I can talk about my work responsibilities.

Ask your partner:

- Do you think it is important to think about the different things that could happen before you make a decision? Why or why not?
- What would you tell your friend if they came up with a bad idea?

Let's Explore!

Has Adam thought this through?

* To "think something through" means to carefully consider the possible results of doing something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Hayley: Hey Adam! How's work going?

Adam: It's alright. There's a position that opened up at work. Boris told Kristi and I to apply for this internal position.

Hayley: That's great news! You have to apply then. Why do you sound so glum?

Adam: I don't think I'm cut out for it. I think Kristi will be better suited than I am anyways. Besides, she shouldn't have any difficulties getting the job.

Hayley: Did you tell her about what happened? You should tell her. You'll feel better.

Adam: I decided to tell her about what happened yesterday.

Hayley: How did she react to it?

Adam: She took it well. She asked why I never mentioned it earlier.

Hayley: So, you're not going to apply for it? You ought to give it a go.

Adam: No, I don't think I am going to apply. I'm working on something else. I feel I should step up my game at work. I've been falling behind ever since our last assignment.

Hayley: What are you working on?

Adam: Kristi wanted to know what I was going to do as well. I didn't tell her. I won't be telling you either. Let's just say in a few more days, I will have made a lasting impression at the office. I'll be doing everyone around the office a great service!

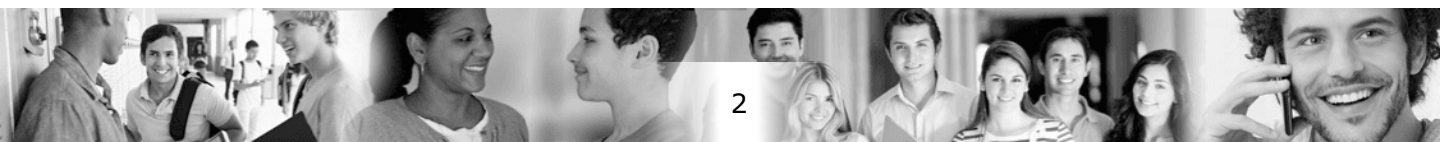

Hayley: What do you mean by that, Adam? You're not going to do something ridiculous ... are you?

Adam: I don't think it's ridiculous. In fact, you ought to believe me when I say it's a sensible idea.

Hayley: I've heard you say that many times before, Adam. Each time you did, I wondered what you meant. Let's just say these ideas of yours usually don't end well.

Adam: I know, but Hayley, trust me. I'll have thought this idea through a few times before I put it in motion.

Hayley: If you say so.

Let's Practice!

What did he say? What did she say?

Instructions: Use the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Word Bank

asked / told / asked / wanted / asked

1. Boris _____ Kristi and I to apply for it.
2. She _____ me to talk to her about it later.
3. She _____ why I never mentioned it earlier.
4. They _____ to know what I did.
5. She _____ me why I kept this secret from her.

Let's Practice!

What were some important words that Adam used?

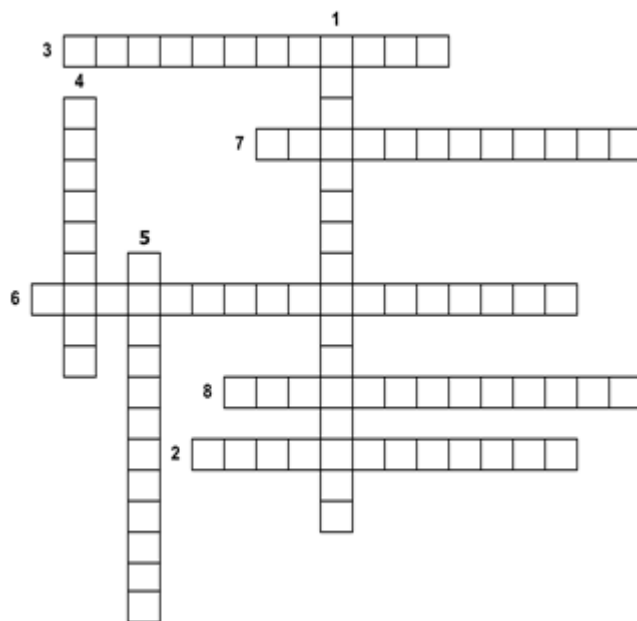

Instructions: Based on the text on page 2, complete the crossword.

Down

1. Boris told Kristi and I to apply for this _____.
4. You ought to _____ as well.
5. I feel I should _____ at work.

Across

2. She shouldn't have any _____ getting the job.
3. I think Kristi is _____ than I am anyways.
6. I will have made a _____ on the _____ office.
7. I'll be doing everyone around the office a _____!
8. I'll have thought this idea through a few times before I _____.

Extension Activity

Write a dialogue between two people who are considering applying for a new job.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- With a partner, think of a situation in which one person wants to apply for a new job and the other person is giving advice.
- Write a dialogue of 8 - 12 lines.
- Talk about what the person is required to do in this new job.
- Try to report what someone else has said about the new job.
- Practice your dialogue.
- Change roles.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I discuss what is involved in applying for a new job.

☐ ☐

I write a dialogue.

☐ ☐

I talk about what is required.

☐ ☐

I report what someone has said.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- internal position (noun): a job opportunity that is within a company or organization rather than outside it e.g. Boris told Kristi and I to apply for this internal position.
- difficulty (noun): something that is difficult for you to do; trouble
e.g. She shouldn't have any difficulties getting the job.
- better suited (expression): having the right qualities to do something e.g. I think Kristi is better suited than I am anyways.
- to give it a go (expression): to attempt something e.g. You ought to give it a go as well.
- to step up your game (expression): to take action when there is a need for it e.g. I feel I should step up my game at work.
- lasting impression (expression): an opinion or feeling you have about someone or something that exists for a long time or forever e.g. I will have made a lasting impression on the office.
- a great service (expression): an act of assistance
e.g. I'll be doing everyone around the office a great service!
- to put in motion (expression): to start something
e.g. I'll have thought this idea through a few times before I put it in motion.

Learning Points

Reporting Orders and Questions

When you report what other people ask or command, you often make some grammar changes.

When you want to report an order, you usually use the following verbs: tell - command - order - forbid - ask - warn.

You use the infinitive after the report verb.

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Maria: "Be here at 9 a.m. and not a moment later".	She told me to be there at 9 a.m. and not a moment later.
Lorena: "Open the doors!"	She commanded me to open the doors.
Teacher: "Be quiet please!"	The teacher asked the students to be quiet.

When we want to report a negative order we use "not" before "to".

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Dad: "Don't play video games."	My dad told me not to play video games.

When we want to report questions, we usually use the following verbs: ask - want to know - inquire.

When we report yes/no questions, we use "if" or "whether".

Direct Question	Reported Question
Richard: "Do you have a car?"	He asked me if I had a car.

How to report questions with question words such as "what", "where", etc.

Direct Question	Reported Question
Camila: "What time does the class start?"	She asked me what time the class started.
Tomas: "Why are you crying?"	He wanted to know why I was crying.

Remember to change the tense of the verbs to reflect what it is going to be reported. Take a look at the chart.

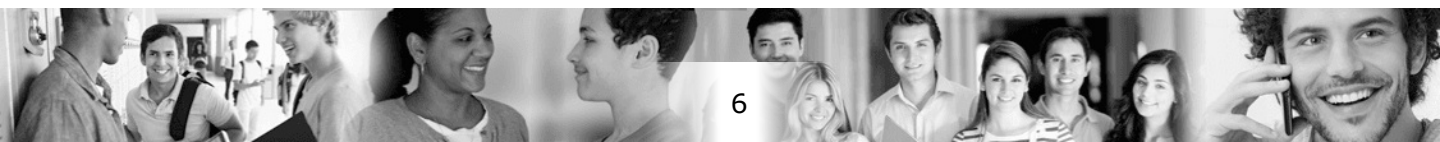

Learning Points

Direct Question	Reported Question
Present Simple Maria: "Are you ok?"	Past Simple She asked if I was ok.
Present Continuous Ronald: "Are you doing the homework?"	Past Continuous He asked me if I was doing the homework.
Past Simple Richard: "Did you close the door?"	Past Perfect He asked me if I had closed the door.
Present Perfect Sonia: "Have you been to Europe?"	Past Perfect She wanted to know if I had been to Europe.
Past Continuous Carlos: "Were you playing at the park?"	Past Perfect Continuous He asked me if I had been playing at the park.
Can Ronald: "Can you do me a favor?"	Could He asked if I could do him a favor.
Will Fernanda: "Will you come to the party?"	Would She asked me if I would come to the party.

Examples:

- Boris told Kristi and I to apply for it.
- She asked me to talk to her about it later.
- She asked why I never mentioned it earlier.
- They wanted to know what I did.

Learning Points

Modals Expressing Necessity, Duty or Advice

You can use a variety of modals to talk about what is necessary, what someone is responsible for and to give advice.

Let's look at the modals must, have to, have got to, and should.

You use the modal must when we decide for ourselves what is necessary.

Example:

I must show them I can live up to their expectations.

You use have to and have got to before verbs that talk about necessity. Have got to is more casual. Have to implies that someone else imposed the necessity on you.

Example:

You have to buckle down Kristi, and get it done.

I've got to work systematically.*

Should is a modal you can use to give advice and to talk about duty.

Example:

You should make sure you meet these deadlines. (advice)

You should take this responsibility seriously. (duty)

We use should and ought to to make a subjunctive prediction.

Example:

They should/ought to win the next round easily.

She shouldn't have any trouble with traffic.

Examples:

- You have to apply then.
- She shouldn't have any difficulties getting the job.
- You should tell her. You'll feel better.
- You ought to give it a go as well.
- You ought to believe me.

