

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Analyze issues relating to different topics and their solution in written and spoken situations according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Why do you think it's important to clear the air with someone?
- What are the benefits of talking something through?

Can Do Statements

- I can request or report facts about events or actions.
- I can talk about things that happened, were happening or had happened.
- I can talk about my work responsibilities.

Let's Explore!

Why does Adam think he's not cut out for it?

* To "not be cut out for something" means to not be the right type of person for something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Adam: Hey Kristi, what did you think about my presentation?
- Kristi: I wanted to know why you didn't tell me you were doing that. I could have helped you!
- Adam: I know you would if I told you. I didn't want to tell anyone what I was doing because I had wanted it to be a surprise.
- Kristi: Ever since you admitted to taking my notes, you've been ignoring me. We don't chat like we used to. Seeing that you already apologized, I don't understand why you were ignoring me. I thought we came to a mutual understanding about the whole thing.
- Adam: I'm sorry. I didn't mean to come across like this. As soon I started putting together my presentation, I just got so caught up with it. But now that I've finished with that, we can totally catch up. As soon as we're done work today, we'll go out for some coffee.
- Kristi: Not today, sorry. I have to prep for my interview.
- Adam: Interview ... for what? Did you apply for the junior editor position? Why didn't you tell me?
- Kristi: If you asked whether or not I was going to, I would have been more than happy to tell you.
- Adam: I guess you're right. So, when's your interview?
- Kristi: I sent in my application a few days ago. While I was waiting to hear from Denise about it, I received a phone call from Pamela, the recruitment officer. My interview is on Friday.
- Adam: That's great news. Ever since Boris told us about the position, I knew you would be the perfect candidate for the job. I'm glad you applied.
- Kristi: Thanks, Adam. Did you apply? I hope you did.
- Adam: No, I'm definitely not cut out for it. You're better suited for it than I am. I was hoping that by me setting out to do this presentation, it would help me step up my game but I think it's done the opposite.
- Kristi: It was a great presentation. You did a really good job. You mentioned how we could all do our part in making the office more environmentally and ergonomically friendly. It got everyone thinking. While walking to work, I thought about ways I could reduce my environmental footprint.
- Adam: I don't know Kristi. I got called into Denise's office to talk to her about it. I think she might fire me.

Let's Practice!

Kristi and Adam talk about work. What words do they use?

Instructions: Match the sentences in Column A to the sentences in Column B.

COLUMN A

1. mutual understanding
2. to come across
3. recruitment officer
4. better suited
5. to step up your game

COLUMN B

- a. to take action when there is a need for it.
- b. to behave in a way that makes people believe that you have a particular characteristic.
- c. someone who is paid to find suitable workers for a company.
- d. an informal agreement between two or more people.
- e. to have the right qualities to do something.

Let's Practice!

What was Kristi doing while she was prepping* for her interview?

* To "prep" means to prepare yourself to do something.

Instructions: Read the clues. Classify the statements into the correct category. There is only one category per statement.

	One thing following another	When things started	Things happening at the same time
1. Ever since you admitted to taking my notes, you've been ignoring me.
2. While I was preparing for my interview, I realized I didn't send you the letter.
3. As soon I started putting together my presentation, I just got so caught up with it.
4. I've felt anxious ever since I applied for that position.
5. While I was walking to work, I thought about ways I can reduce my environmental footprint.
6. While I was waiting to hear from Denise about it, I received a phone call from Pamela, the recruitment officer.

Extension Activity

Let's reduce our environmental footprint!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online or to your local library and calculate your environmental footprint.
- Visit the Global Footprint Network website.
- Complete the 'Personal Footprint' quiz. After you complete the quiz, look at your results.
- Think of ways you can reduce your footprint. Write them down.
- Talk to a partner about what they will do.
- Tell another partner about what your partner will do.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I calculate my environmental footprint.

☐ ☐

I write about ways to reduce my environmental footprint.

☐ ☐

I use reported speech to talk about what changes my partner will make.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- mutual understanding (expression): a informal agreement between two or more people
e.g. I thought we came to a mutual understanding about the whole thing.
- to come across (verb): to behave in a way that makes people believe that you have a particular characteristic e.g. I didn't mean to come across like this.
- recruitment officer (noun): someone who is paid to find suitable workers for a company e.g. I received a phone call from Pamela, the recruitment officer.
- better suited (expression): to have the right qualities to do something e.g. You're better suited for it than I am.
- to step up your game (expression): to take action when there is a need for it e.g. I thought it would help me step up my game, but I think it's done the opposite.
- ergonomically friendly (expression): designed in a way that makes it comfortable and effective for people who use it for their work e.g. We could all do our part in making the office more environmentally and ergonomically friendly.
- environmental footprint (noun): the effect that a person, company, activity, etc. has on the environment
e.g. I thought about ways I could reduce my environmental footprint.

Learning Points

Reported Speech and Questions

When you report what other people ask or command, you often make some grammar changes.

When we want to report an order, we usually use the following verbs: tell - command - order - forbid - ask - warn.

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Teacher: "Open your books to page 22".	The teacher told us to open our books to page 22.
Richard: "Stop making noise please!"	He told me to stop making noise.
Yeni: "Calm down kids!"	Yeni told the kids to calm down.

When we want to report a negative order we use "not" before "to".

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
Martha: "Don't touch the paintings."	Martha ordered us not to touch the paintings.

When we want to report questions, we usually use the following verbs: ask - want to know - inquire.

How to report Yes / No questions :

When we report yes/no questions, we use "if" or "whether".

Direct Question	Reported Question
Sandra: "Do you have time to check the printer?"	Sandra asked me if I had time to check the printer.

How to report questions with question words such as what, where, etc.:

Direct Question	Reported Question
Laura: "What time does the concert start?"	Laura asked at what time the concert started.
Helen: "Why is she upset?"	She wanted to know why she was upset.

Learning Points

Remember to change the tense of the verbs to reflect what it is going to be reported. Take a look at the chart.

Direct Question	Reported Question
Present Simple Juan: "Is she late?"	Past Simple Juan asked me whether she was late.
Present Continuous Ronald: "Are they reading the book I told them to?"	Past Continuous He wanted to know if they were reading the book he had told them to.
Past Simple Carla: "Did she send the e-mail?"	Past Perfect Carla asked if she had sent the e-mail.
Present Perfect Robert: "Have you had lunch?"	Past Perfect He asked me if I had had lunch.
Past Continuous Joseph: "Were you talking on the phone?"	Past Perfect Continuous He asked me if I had been talking on the phone.
Can Fernanda: "Can you call my boss?"	Could She asked me if I could call her boss.
Will Paola: "Will you do the laundry?"	Would Paola wanted to know if I would do the laundry.

Examples:

- I wanted to know why you didn't tell me you were doing that.
- If you asked whether or not I was going to, I would have been more than happy to tell you.
- He mentioned that we could all do our part in making the office more environmentally and ergonomically friendly.
- She asked me to come see her later.

Learning Points

Time Clauses Using As soon as, Ever since, While

You use time clauses to make your writing and speaking more precise and more sophisticated.

Look at the chart to learn how to use some common linking words and phrases in time clauses:

Word/Phrase	Meaning/Use	Example
As soon as	one thing following another	As soon as she realized the project was not done, she fired everyone.
Ever since	when things started	Ever since I took this job, I've been feeling really tired.
While	things happening at the same time	While the phone was ringing, she made copies.

Examples:

- Ever since you admitted to taking my notes, you've been ignoring me.
- As soon as I started putting together my presentation, I just got so caught up with it.
- As soon as we're done work today, we'll go out for some coffee.
- While I was waiting to hear from Denise about it, I received a phone call from Pamela, the recruitment officer.
- While I was walking to work, I thought about ways I could reduce my environmental footprint.

